Children's Book Week – May 2-8, 2022

Established in 1919, Children's Book Week is the longest running national literacy initiative in the USA. It's a way to unite kids and adults with books, authors and illustrators to help foster a love of reading. This year's theme is "How Do You Book?" asking children to think about what, where and how they read (i.e., Under a tree? On the computer? At the beach? Or in bed?).

Story Walk™ – Starting May 2nd

The mouse is back in this 9th picture book - If You Give a Mouse a Brownie by Laura Numeroff. Dress for the spring weather with your walking shoes on and come read the story while you walk along in our community. Get your map 24/7 hanging on the library's front door and enjoy the outdoors!

Join us for a viewing and facilitated discussion of the award-winning documentary series by California Newsreel. The Power of Illusion is a three-hour series that questions the very idea of race as biology.
